Railway Mechanical Engineer. (Continued.)

*4011.211

1887, the American Railroad Journal was consolidated with Van Nostrand's Engineering Magazine [*5945.50] under the title, Railroad and Engineering Journal; vols. 67-69 were called, American Engineer and Railroad Journal; vols. 70-72, American Engineer, Carbuilder, and Railroad Journal; vols. 73-85, American Engineer and Railroad Journal; vols. 86, 87 (no. 1-5), American Engineer, "The Railway Mechanical Monthly;" vols. 87 (no. 6)-89, Railway Age Gazette, Mechanical Edition. With vol. 90 the above title was assumed.

With vols. 7, 16, 61 began new series.

Vols. 2, 5, 6, 11, 14 are incomplete.

There are two volumes marked 79, one for 1905, the other for 1906. Presumably one should be vol. 80, ^{as the society's original binding says vol. 80, a} since vol. 81 is for 1907.

This card was printed at the Boston

Public Library, June 20, 1917.
